

IMPENITENT ABBIE URICH.

In the House of Mercy, and the Sisters Know of No Rival Friend Who Is to Take Her Out.

"Rather than go home and live with you I prefer death," said Abbie Ulrich to her mother, the day she was committed to the House of Mercy by Magistrate Grano. That was on March 23, and the girl has not yet returned. She is seventeen years old and pretty. Her mother declares that on one occasion she remained away from home for two weeks.

In the red brick home up on the heights, between Inwood and Spuyten Duyvil, Abbie Ulrich is one of the most docile inmates. She has nothing to say to the other girls there and speaks only to the Sisters of St. Mary when they speak to her.

It was reported yesterday that several persons had interested themselves in the girl, and that one woman well known in society had retained a lawyer to bring habeas corpus proceedings in behalf of Abbie. The Sister Superior of the Institution said yesterday that she knew of no one who had taken such an interest in the girl.

SHE DIED IN THE WATER.

Apparently Overcome by Faintness, Miss Julia Kennedy Falls from a Bulkhead and is Drowned.

Miss Julia Kennedy, one of the most popular women in Bath Beach, Brooklyn, was drowned at the foot of Seventeenth avenue yesterday morning. Miss Kennedy was housekeeper at Lowry's Hotel at Bath Beach.

She arose about 6 o'clock yesterday and started out for a walk on the bulkhead which runs around the hotel and Lowry cottages. Fifteen minutes later a servant saw her in the water with her face downward and motionless. The water was only two feet deep at this point. Henry Conize and Patrick Jenks jumped into the water and brought the body ashore. Miss Kennedy was dead.

Miss Kennedy was subject to fainting spells, and it is believed she was overcome by one yesterday and fell overboard.

HID GOLD IN OLD RAGS.

Executors of a Peekskill Woman's Estate Find Much Concealed Treasure in Strange Hiding Places.

More than $10,000 in gold has been found in the last few days secreted in strange hiding places in the home of Mrs. Maria Moore, who died in Peekskill some months ago. Mrs. Moore lived quietly, and was known to own her own home and to have money in the bank.

The executors of the estate thought this was all. Last week, however, they found some gold coins hidden in an old stocking in a closet. A search was then made, and more than $10,000 was found sewed in old clothing and concealed in odd corners of the house.

The following report of the executors gives some idea of what was found and how: One red purse, $40 in gold; one black purse, $40 in gold; buckskin purse, $105 in gold; a white paper parcel, $40; one small bag of gold, $125; a small white stocking, $210 in gold; a small brown purse, $40 in gold and $211 in currency; a black pocket-book, $311; another stocking, $745 in gold; a brown leather purse, $85. Bank books showed the following amounts still in the banks: Irving Savings Institution, $2,002.27; Peekskill Savings Bank, $5,042.98; Westchester County Bank, $2,330. There was also an envelope, marked with the name of Hattie Van Buren, which contained $800 in currency. In an old red robe was $1,050, and in a linen wrapper $500. Other currency was found to the amount of $4,305.
